NEW PROGRAM LINKS JOURNALISM STUDENTS/FOREIGN LANGUAGE STUDY

Journalism students aspiring to report the news from French and Spanish-speaking areas, can get extra training in foreign correspondence thanks to a grant received by Modern Languages and Journalism from the U. S. Department of Education and from 1804 Funds.

The grants are financing a new program in which students will study French and Spanish using foreign language newspapers, weekly news magazines, and radio and television broadcasts received via satellite.

In addition to classroom work, three television monitors will be set up in the language laboratory in Ellis Hall and three in the journalism school so students can also watch the live foreign broadcasts during their free time.

The program, which was launched fall quarter, was open to 50 journalism students currently studying the languages on an intermediate level. It will be administered jointly by the Department of Modern Languages and the E. W. Scripps School of Journalism.

LANGUAGE FAIR

This year's Language Fair was held on April 14 and was most successful. This was the 10th Annual Language Fair and it was hard to believe that so many years have gone by since we started. The Fair was held in Ellis Hall and Memorial Auditorium and was attended by approximately 1100 students from 27 schools. Each year the quality of the presentations improves and we were most pleased with the outstanding work done by these students and their teachers. Among the alums at the Fair this year were Sherry McFadden Kochis (Alexander High School), Mark Nutter (Waterford), Gretchen Yerian (St. Joseph Prep Seminary), Ralph Morgan (Morgan High School), Susan Sommers Parsons (Berne Union), Gloria Muntean, John Fogt, Lana Weber, Carolyn Bayat (all Athens High School) and Sharon Guinn Scinicariello (Muskingum College).

The 1985 Fair will be held on Saturday, April 13 and we would welcome any of you who would like to come to campus. We especially need judges for the various presentations, so if you're interested give us a call.

LANGUAGE CAMP

The 1984 Language Camp was the 10th Language Camp and was attended by 62 students from Maryland, Michigan, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Virginia, West Virginia, and Ohio.

CAMP cont'd

The campers spent seven days in Jefferson Hall (as did the counselors) and we were all pleased at the progress these students made. This year we tried something different - there was a junior camp and a senior camp for the two age groups so that students could spend time with others the same age. Some of our faithful alums were there including Sharon Guinn Scinicariello, the Co-director of the Camp and Director of the French Camp, Mark Nutter, Director of the Spanish Camp, Molly Gleissner, Kathy Chirinos, Gretchen Yerian, and Paula Heck Woodward. Ellen Milicia visited the camp briefly. Ellen was a counselor for two years. She's now married, has a son, and is living and working in Cleveland.
